

Why join EARA Young Scholars?

- Meet young scholars from all over the world
- Get regular information about conferences, research and grant opportunities
- Reduced registration fee for the biennial meetings of the European Association for Research on Adolescence (EARA)
- Possibility to apply for EARA summer schools
- Possibility to submit papers in the EARA/ Journal of Adolescence special issues related to EARA conferences
- Possibility to apply for EARA awards:
 - * EARA Young Scholars Award
 - * Best poster award
- EARA students can register at the SRA conference for the student member rate

How to join EARA Young Scholars?

1. Apply for the EARA membership (www.earaonline.org/membership)
2. Once you have joined EARA, you are automatically a member of the EARA Young Scholars
3. For more information you can contact us at earayoungscholars@gmail.com

How to contact us?

- * Write us at: earayoungscholars@gmail.com
- * Find out more about us on: www.earaonline.org
- * Join us on Facebook
- * Follow us on Twitter

EARA Young Scholars

EARA

YOUNG SCHOLARS

Are you a Ph.D. student, a Post-doc, or a young assistant professor? Is your research focused on adolescence?

JOIN US!

EARA Young Scholars (European Association for Research on Adolescence)

Who are we?

- We are a community of young scholars (i.e., Ph.D. students, Post-doctoral researchers, and assistant professors) interested in the study of adolescence.
- We have national representatives in several countries in Europe, USA, and Asia.
- Previous Committee (2018-2020):

Marlies Maes
Susanne Schulz
Sofie Danneel
Elina Marttinen
Ioana Pop

Committee (2020-2022)

Susanne Schulz
-Representative-

Daráine Murphy
-Deputy representative-

Flore Geukens
-Secretary-

Maria M. Kwiatkowska
-Secretary-

Savaş Karataş
-Communication manager-

What goals do we have?

Our most important goals are:

- ⇒ to promote scientific collaboration among researchers with common research interests
- ⇒ to provide useful links and information about conferences, summer schools, research, and grant opportunities to young scholars
- ⇒ to increase learning opportunities for young scholars
- ⇒ to collaborate with young scholars from other scientific societies
- ⇒ to increase the visibility of young scholars' research outcomes